Hi Jon,

Thanks for sending the media link to the KPBS story. It sounds like they contacted the Office of Public Affairs in EPA headquarters, Washington, D.C. for a quote. We appreciate the hard work San Diego APCD does regulating air quality, and recognize the misconceptions presented by the reporter. I hope you had an opportunity for a follow up discussion with the news stations to correct the record.

Matt / Joel

Please see the link to a radio news article on automotive spray painting in San Diego County.

The article was very inaccurate on several points.

I want to assure you that we require all operations in San Diego County to comply with 6H. We do not exempt facilities from 6H requirements. A few years back we went through a lot of effort to bring facilities into compliance with 6H. I find it ironic that we are one of the few, if only district, in California that has been delegated 6H. If you have any questions please call me.

Sincerely,

Jon
